Cangaroos Expansion:

Cambridge Cangaroos Trampoline Club continues its expansion and offers elite training to international performers

Due to increased demand for trampolining in the South Cambridgeshire area Cambridge Cangaroos Trampoline Club has added more sessions and more availability at those session.

In April 2009, the club was awarded £10,000 from Awards for All and £5,000 from Grassroots. We have used the money to purchase four new trampolines and additional safety equipment. With 2 new trampolines going into our main centre at Sawston Sports Centre we now have 6 top quality trampolines for our elite, competitive and recreational bouncers. Additionally, we have purchased 1 trampoline each for our training centres at Cottenham and Coleridge.

These additional trampolines mean that we have places available for newcomers to try out this exciting sport. NASA describes trampolining as 'the best activity for all round exercise, working virtually every muscle in your body and giving a total body work-out in just a few minutes of fun'

This increase in facilities and opportunities have led to a number of international performers joining the club including Jarek Bihun from Poland. In 2007, Jarek was the Polish Under 18 champion. In 2008, he moved to Cambridge where he is studying the International Baccalaureate at Impington village College. Jarek, who is 15 has been training with Cangaroos for the last 3 months and on 26th April he represented Cangaroos at the Easton Open in Norwich. Competing in the 1st level of national grading, Jarek delivered 2 routines of high quality which gave him 2nd place. We hope this quality will continue and we hope to see continued success for him and the club.
